Min Hyung

Angell Gallery
890 Queen St. W.

When: Nov. 28/08 - Jan. 3/09

A painting and drawing student at OCAD, Min Hyung has matured considerably over a short period of time. She populates her works with little multicoloured blobs of acrylic—think Skittles—which in recent shows have, as groupings in front of broader strokes, come to resemble outer space phenomena. Her new effort showcases these globules in a dramatically new light: as patina on dream-like views of contemporary luxury architecture. In some instances they populate pools, like flocks of children's rubber balls; in others they join together, forming bodies that dive and swim across showrooms and terraces.
